IMPORTANT — OWNER-BUILDER EXEMPTION APPLIES TO OWNER-OCCUPIED PROPERTY ONLY

Florida Statute 489.103(7) limits the owner-builder exemption to property the owner personally occupies or uses. It does NOT apply to rental property, investment property, or any property offered for lease. If you own a rental home, duplex, or any property currently leased or intended to be leased, you CANNOT use the owner-builder exemption — a licensed contractor is required for all permitted work on that property, regardless of permit type.

Row color indicates who can pull the permit		OWNER / HOMEOWNER MAY PULL & PERFORM		EITHER — Owner-Builder OR Licensed Contractor (Owner-Occupied Property Only)		LICENSED CONTRACTOR REQUIRED

Roofing Permit — Small	1 – 1,000 Square Feet	$50.00	Owner-Builder OR Licensed Roofing Contractor	Owner (own 1–2 family residence, own use) OR Licensed Roofing Contractor	Yes — Roofing Contractor license if using contractor	FS 489.103(7); FS 489.113(3)(g)	Owner-builder exemption applies to own 1–2 family residence for personal use. General Contractors certified after 1973 may NOT self-perform roofing unless also certified as a roofing contractor (FS 489.113(g)).
Roofing Permit — Standard	1,000 Square Feet and Up	$100.00	Owner-Builder OR Licensed Roofing Contractor	Owner (own 1–2 family residence, own use) OR Licensed Roofing Contractor	Yes — Roofing Contractor license if using contractor	FS 489.103(7); FS 489.113(3)(g)	Same owner-builder rules apply. If owner sells or leases within 1 year of completion, law presumes it was built for sale/lease — a violation of the exemption. Licensed roofer strongly advised for full replacements.
ACCESSORY BUILDINGS (NON-RESIDENTIAL)
Accessory Building — Open	Roof only, no walls (formerly Pole Barn)	$125.00	Owner or Contractor	Owner OR Licensed Contractor	Yes — if using contractor	FS 489.103(7)(a)(1) (farm outbuildings)	FS 489.103(7)(a)(1) specifically exempts farm outbuildings. Owner may build on own property. Any electrical or plumbing inside still requires licensed subcontractors.
Accessory Building — Enclosed	Any walls, full or partial (formerly Pole Barn)	$150.00	Owner or Contractor	Owner OR Licensed Contractor	Yes — if using contractor	FS 489.103(7)(a)(1) (farm outbuildings)	Same farm outbuilding exemption applies. Interior electrical or plumbing work requires licensed subcontractors.
Accessory Building — Enclosing Existing Open	Adding full or partial walls to a structure previously permitted as open	$50.00	Owner or Contractor	Owner OR Licensed Contractor	Yes — if using contractor	FS 489.103(7)(a)(1) (farm outbuildings)	Applies only if the open structure was previously permitted; if it was never permitted, the Enclosed fee applies. Plan review and inspection are required because enclosing changes the wind-design classification. Interior electrical or plumbing work requires licensed subcontractors.
Portable Sheds & Garages	120 – 400 Square Feet	$30.00	Owner OK	Owner OK	No license required	FS 489.103(7)	Small accessory structures on owner's property generally do not require a licensed contractor. Must still meet setback, zoning, and wind load requirements.
Portable Sheds & Garages	Over 400 Square Feet	$50.00	Owner or Contractor	Owner OR Licensed Contractor	Yes — if using contractor	FS 489.103(7); local LDR	Larger structures may require engineered drawings. Verify requirements with Liberty County Building Department.
COMPREHENSIVE PLAN REVIEW & ZONING
Site Plan Approval — Tier 1	Single-Family Homes, Mobile Home Setups, Simple Additions	$100.00	Owner or Authorized Agent	N/A — Administrative Review	No license required to apply	Local LDR; FS 163	Owner or authorized agent may submit application. No contractor license needed for the application itself.
Site Plan Approval — Tier 2	Industrial, Commercial, Multifamily	$350.00	Owner or Authorized Agent	N/A — Administrative Review	PE or Architect seal may be required for plans	Local LDR; FS 163; FS 471 (PE); FS 481 (RA)	Complex projects may require site plans sealed by a Florida Licensed Professional Engineer (PE) or Registered Architect (RA). Contact planning dept. to confirm plan requirements.
Comp Plan Amendment — Small-Scale	Under 10 Acres	$1,500.00	Owner or Attorney / Agent	N/A — County Commission Review	No	FS 163.3187	Any owner or authorized representative may submit. Planning consultant recommended but not legally required.
